

It's An Italian Love Affair...

What Do All Italians Love?

Let's take a look at this video and see just what all Italians love...no, no-- besides that! Do you eat pasta? Pizza? Drink wine? Well, you're on the right track!

Everything looked pretty good, right? Our events in the past have given you a taste of all these products. We've had a pizza party, a Membership Appreciation event that featured gelato. When we did the All Things Emilia Romagna, you got a sample of prosciutto, and who could forget the delicious Pasta Bolognese we had at the same event! At our Antipasto Table last summer, there were plenty of dishes with olive oil and balsamic vinegar, and at our more recent events, we've offered espresso and cappuccino coffees. At the Christmas dinner and dance, you were offered a glass of Italian prosecco; and we had parmesan cheese at our Emilia Romagna event as well.

We've only missed the black truffles, but who knows? If we ever get out of the house, we may find a way to work them into an event!
