

Finding it hard to find new diversions? Don't know what to do with yourself?

We can help with a 3-minute video!

We're still here stuck in the house. No activities. No fun. No socializing. No anything. That paddle board starting to look pretty good?

But wait! We can fill up at least 3 minutes of your day--and maybe more if you watch it over and over again! Here's a video with catchy Italian music that will bring a smile to your face, a longing in your heart, memories to your head, and a whiff of the aromas of some fabulous Italian food.

This is just a reminder that Italy still exists, is still beautiful and that, thankfully, all of what you see will still be there when we can go again. It's all waiting for us...and we hope we can see it soon. They don't call it "Bella Italia" for nothing. Click on the button below for your trip to Italy from your home.
